Things To Know

Keep in mind, many stores leave it up to the individual manager's discretion whether their store will allow dogs. It's a good idea to call ahead and find out what that specific store's policy is before you drag your dog shopping! While some stores are dog-friendly, they may also require that your dog be on a leash. Others will only allow well-mannered pets in their store.

Another thing to keep in mind is that while the store may be dog-friendly, the shopping mall it's located in might not be. If the store you plan to visit, like Nordstrom or Macy's, is in a mall, you'll want to call the actual shopping mall ahead of time and find out what its policy is on pets.

Some local stores also allow dogs to accompany their owners while shopping. You can check to see if your local stores, restaurants and attractions are dog-friendly at BringFido.

Holiday Inn – Weirton, WV

Our Review: The hotel staff was kind to us and even gave us more soft blankets for our bed. There is an easy access from our room on the first floor to the outside where we could hang out. The area is well lit so mom didn't have to be scared but it is on the side of the building and out of the way from the front entrance.

The Woodbury Cabin & Pond

Our Review: Mom found this cabin through Airbnb and we loved it.

We had plenty of property to run around. It was clean and we didn't even have to pay an extra charge for us to stay there. But mom did have to pay a cleaning and service fee. It definitely wasn't a hotel. It was more like our house. Our friend, Shane, was wonderful to deal with. Historical Roscoe Village

Our Review: This was one of our favorite birthday presents and our first time there. It's very friendly there. Mom even found a restaurant so we could sit outside and enjoy their beautiful patio and good food. The waitress was really nice to us and brought us fresh water. We got to walk on the trails after lunch and then on the way home, we fell asleep because all that walking around made us tired.
